

MEMORANDUM

To: Faculty and Staff

From: Meredith A. Newman, Ph.D., Vice Provost for Faculty & Global Affairs

Date: February 22, 2016

Re: Fulbright Scholar Program – FIU is a Top Producer of U.S. Fulbright Scholars

I am pleased to inform you that the Council for International Exchange of Scholars (CIES) is recognizing FIU this year as a Top Producer of U.S. Fulbright Scholars. Please join me in congratulating the following members of our FIU community who are representing, or did represent, FIU as part of the Fulbright program all over the world during the 2015-16 academic year:

Core Program - Distinguished Chair:

Jorge Esquirol, Professor	Law	Latin American Law and Law and Development Studies	University of Trento, Trento, Italy
---------------------------	-----	--	-------------------------------------

Core Program – Scholar:

Alpesh Patel, Assistant Professor	Art History	Transnational Approaches to Queer Contemporary Art Practices in Poland	Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznan, Poland
Aparajita Maitra, Assistant Dean	Education	U.S.-Germany International Education Administrators Seminar	The German-American Fulbright Commission, Berlin, Germany
Jacob Sudol, Assistant Professor	Music	Developing Interdisciplinary Creativity in Composition and Music Technology	National Chiao Tung University, Hsinchu, Taiwan
Jennifer Hoyte, Adjunct Faculty	Education	Making Mathematics Pedagogy CRISPER - Contextual, Reflective, Interactive, Supportive, Problem-based	University of Guyana, Georgetown, Guyana
Nicholas Onuf, Professor Emeritus	International Relations	Participate in Graduate Seminars; Collaborate on Scholarly Handbook	Panteion University, Athens, Greece

Specialists Program:

Elizabeth Anderson, Director of International Research Programs	Environmental Sciences	Scientific and Technical Support for Academic Programs in Environmental Sciences	University of Santander, Bucaramanga, Colombia
Constantino Torres, Professor Emeritus	Archaeology	Cultural Heritage and Art History	University of Magallanes, Punta Arenas, Chile

We hope that you will consider submitting an application in the future as part of the U.S. Fulbright program to maintain this momentum. Fulbright grants are excellent opportunities to engage in research, teaching and studying educational systems abroad.

The 2017-18 Core U.S. Fulbright Scholar Competition is now open for applications for opportunities in 125+ countries. To support our faculty and administrators who wish to submit an application by the August 1, 2016 deadline, we are offering a hands-on workshop with a program officer from Fulbright as well as FIU faculty who are peer reviewers of Fulbright applications, and several colleagues who have competed successfully for a Fulbright grant in the past:

Fulbright Scholar Competition Application Workshop

Friday, April 1, 2016

2:00-5:00pm (a morning session may be added if there is demand)

AHC4, room 402

Please rsvp to ofga@fiu.edu

Should you have any questions, please contact our Fulbright Campus Representatives Kathleen Wilson at wilsonk@fiu.edu or Gitta Montoto at gmontoto@fiu.edu.

Onward, upward and abroad!